J. B. ADVANI & CO. LTD.

Established 1908.

HEAD OFFICE : BOMBAY.

IN 1908, three intimate friends, Kanwalsing Pohumal, Vasanmal Kishenchand and Jotsing Harising, formed themselves into a Company called J. B. Advani & Company with a view to specializing in the import of Paper and Printing Materials. This Concern was the first of its kind in Sind. The pioneers, who envisaged a great future for this line of business, opened an office in Karachi. In a very short time their confidence was justified and the venture became a huge success. The markets within reach having been tapped to the fullest extent, a Branch was opened in Bombay in 1921. In spite of the very keen competition that usually prevails in Bombay, which is the premier and largest paper market in India, the Company very soon became one of the leading firms in the line with its business growing in volume from year to year.

In 1924, the original owners of the Company decided to convert their firm into a Private Limited Company—J. B. Advani & Co. Ltd.—with a capital of Rs. 6,00,000.

In 1925, the management began to explore the Punjab market more energetically with a view to developing the business handled by the Head Office at Karachi and a Branch was accordingly opened in Lahore. This was followed by the opening of a Branch in Madras in 1927, which has made steady progress year by year. Three years later, a Branch was opened, this time in Calcutta. Branches have since been opened in Delhi, Jullundur, Cochin and Cuttack.

With its network of branches in all the important centres in India, J. B. Advani & Co. Ltd. today reaches every notable consuming centre in India.

The Company has a Paid-up Capital of Rs. 30,00,000. Besides, it has the substantial backing of its partners, and the Working Capital is actually in the vicinity of Rs. 75,00,000. The Company, with its branches, is one of the largest importers of paper in India with a turnover of Rs. 1,25,00,000 per annum. It deals in all grades of paper, printing machinery and materials and is open to take up representation of Indian and foreign Mills. The Company has now taken in hand export business of Indian products.

In partnership with Messrs. Lorilleux & Bolton Ltd., London, famous manufacturers of Printing Inks, some of the Directors have started a Printing Ink factory at BHANDUP (Central Rly.) near Bombay. The factory has started production from September 1951. With large number of Mills going into full production at the factory, they can meet the entire requirements of Printing Inks of various types required in India. The concern is known as J. B. A. PRINTING INKS LIMITED.

Another enterprise with which they are associated is one for the manufacture of Welding Electrodes, probably the first major attempt in this field of industry in India. In partnership with Messrs. Buehrle & Co., Switzerland, the world famous manufacturers of Welding Electrodes, a new company has been floated under the name of J. B. ADVANI-OERLIKON ELECTRODES LTD. With an up-to-date factory and most modern production line, this factory, situated at BHANDUP (Central Rly.) Greater Bombay, is producing now some of the best Welding Electrodes in the world. They have amongst their patrons, Government, Railways, Shipyards, and Great Steel fabricators of India.

W. H. BRADY &

THE foundations of this famous House were laid in 1895 in Bruce Lane, Bombay, when the late Mr. W. H. Brady in partnership with the late Mr. J. F. Bradbury commenced business as Machinery Agents and Importers, and Advisers on all technical matters relating to the Cotton Textile Industry.

The period was one in which Cotton Mills were on the increase and as Mr. Brady and Mr. Bradbury were two of the best known Mill Managers of the time, their practical experience and expert knowledge of mill management and machinery helped considerably towards the firm's progress.

Within a decade, Bradbury Brady & Co. (as the firm was then styled) had extended its activities far beyond its initial business of machinery importers, for in 1900 the Empire Dye Works was started and in 1901 it took up the agency of the Colaba Land & Mill Company. This was rapidly followed by the agencies of the New City of Bombay Mills, the New Great Eastern Mills, the Sun Mill (now Dhanraj Mills) and the Bradbury Mills.

In 1912 however, a change was made when Mr. Bradbury (in Partnership with Mr. Knowles) restricted his business to the agencies of these Mills under the style of Bradbury & Co., while Mr. Brady started an independent business as a Machinery Agent (with Mr. Kay, Mr. Lakin and Mr. Johnson as junior partners) under the style of W. H. Brady & Co.

In 1913, the latter firm was converted into a private limited liability company under the name and style of W. H. Brady & Co., Ltd., with its Head Office in Bombay. Three years later, on the death of Mr. Bradbury, it took over the agencies of the Empire Dye Works, the New City of Bombay Manufacturing Co., Ltd., the New Great Eastern Spinning and Weaving Co., Ltd., and the Colaba Land & Mill Co., Ltd.

On the retirement of Mr. Brady in 1922, Sir Joseph Kay became Managing Director of the firm and its progress under his management has been considerable. In 1928 the capital was increased and the Company commenced to operate on the joint stock principle without any restrictions on its shares. Today, the operations of the concern cover an extremely wide field, for in addition to its long established textile associations, it has extended its activities over other classes of industry such as Sugar, Engineering, Printing, Insurance, etc.

Associated with the Managing Director is a body of wholetime service directors, namely, Mr. W. Jenkins, Mr. J. Symon, Mr. F. Edwards, Mr. R. S. Smith and Mr. E. F. Morrey, while from time to time, branches have been established in other parts of India until the Company now has offices in Calcutta, Madras, Kanpur, Ahmedabad, Coimbatore and Manchester (England).

TEXTILES.—The Company has a very large Textile Machinery Import Department which carries comprehensive stocks of the manufactures of a number of British and American firms. These firms are recognised everywhere as makers of the highest repute and amongst them may be mentioned—The British Northrop Loom Co., Ltd., Lang Bridge Ltd., Wm. Tatham Ltd. (who have a world-wide reputation for Carding and Spinning machinery for cotton waste and wool), Universal Winding Company (Patentees of the famous Leesona Winding Machines), H. Brinton Co., Hugh Kershaw & Sons Ltd., Cocker Machine & Foundry Co., Cook & Co. (Manchester) Ltd., Samuel O'Neill & Sons Ltd., Small & Parkes Ltd., F. E. Rudman & Co., Ltd., Tragasol Products, Ltd., etc., etc.

COMPANY, LIMITED

The Textile Department is also keenly alive to all changes which constantly take place in the manufacture of Cotton and Silk goods. It is always ready to advise on these changes, suggest up-to-date systems, and to supply machinery in conformity with them.

Being closely associated for more than fifty years with the Cotton Textile Trade in India, the Company has undertaken from time to time, many large contracts and in several cases has executed orders for complete Cotton and Woollen Mills to the entire satisfaction of the purchasers.

In addition to the vast textile machinery business the Company is also directly connected with the Textile Trade in its capacity of Managing Agents for the New City of Bombay Mfg. Co., Ltd., the Empire Dyeing & Mfg. Co., Ltd., and Secretaries and Agents for the New Great Eastern Spg. & Wvg. Co., Ltd.

ENGINEERING.—The Company has a very large general Engineering Department. It carries comprehensive stocks of the manufactures of a number of British Firms, amongst whom may be mentioned Herbert Morris Ltd., The Renold & Coventry Chain Co., Ltd., Hopkinsons Ltd., Geo. Kent Ltd., The Andrew Machine Construction Co., Ltd., G. & J. Weir Ltd., Davidson & Co., Ltd., Norris Henty & Gardners Ltd., Dicks Asbestos & Insulating Co., Ltd., Ashworth & Parker Ltd., Hick Hargreaves & Co., Ltd., Thos. Broadbent & Sons Ltd., Hoffmann Sprinkler Co., Ltd., etc., etc.

In keeping with the development of the Engineering Industry in India, a company under the name of The Brady Engineering Co., Ltd., was formed in 1946 with the object of manufacturing wholly or partially, under licence from their various Principals, such goods as have been imported in the past but which could be readily manufactured in this country.

SUGAR. In their General Department Messrs. W. H. Brady control the management of The Belapur Co., Ltd. This pioneer Company is not only one of the largest of its kind, but has recently erected a new factory which is the most up-to-date in India and is capable of crushing 1,000 tons of cane per day.

It manufactures pure Indian sugar by modern methods from cane which is grown entirely on its own estate.

PRINTING.—Messrs. W. H. Brady control the well-known Caxton Press (G. Claridge & Co., Ltd.) which undertakes all kinds of Printing, Lithography, Die-Stamping, Bookbinding, etc.

INSURANCE.—Insurance is another important line of business with which the Company has been connected for a considerable number of years. The Company acts as Principal Agents of first class British and Indian Insurance Companies, and are always in a position to give advice on, and transact practically all classes of Insurance business with the sole exception of life.

OTHER INTERESTS.—The Company handles several important agencies for goods which are consumed on a very large scale in India, and has built up an extensive connection for its imports of such proprietary articles as Nicholson Files, Nettlefold Screws, Signode Steel Strapping, etc.

CONCLUSION.—In a brief resume of the Company's operations it is impossible to enumerate a complete list of firms for whom they act as representatives, but Messrs. W. H. Brady are well-known to be a live and progressive House, staffed with experts in each branch, and possessing close connections with the Textile Trade, Engineering, the Sugar Industry, Insurance, and manifold other interests.

G. KUPPUSWAMI NAIDUBorn*

31 - 12 - 1884

Died

19 - 12 - 1942

Founder of THE LAKSHMI GROUP MILLS

When the story of the industrial activities of the Kamma Naidus of Coimbatore comes to be written, the name of G. Kuppuswami Naidu will have to be given some importance. His career was romantic like that of many a famous industrialist in the West, for example Andrew Carnegie. He was an idealist with vision, grit and courage personified, having lots of ideas in him which he steadfastly strove to put into practice. His robust commonsense, deep thinking habit and great perseverance accounted for his success as a practical man.

Even at the age of 18 he showed his enterprising spirit. Not merely content with looking after the family lands, which were ample, he ventured to do independent trade in cotton. With a small oil-engine and with the blessings of Sir Robert Stanes, a ginning factory in Naranapuram was started.

In 1910 he started the Lakshmi Mills with an authorised capital of Rs. one lakh. This too was a ginning factory at the time Alongside he did forward business in cotton and the First World War amply repaid his speculations, though at one time he had to face a financial crisis immediately after the Armistice in 1918. It was his indomitable spirit that ultimately won.

The ambitious entrepreneur succeeded in making the Lakshmi Ginning factory into a Spinning mill in 1933. It has now added a weaving section also. The seed sown then has blossomed into a big group of mills called THE LAKSHMI GROUP, which includes the Coimbatore Cotton Mills Ltd., the Rajalakshmi Mills Ltd, etc., which form the most important chain in Coimbatore.

In the field of agriculture too his achievements were no less valuable and he used modern methods with advantage.

In honour of his memory, a Trust for affording Medical Relief and Education has been formed. The first tangible result is the construction of an up-to-date Maternity Hospital in Pappanaickenpalayam, Coimbatore at a cost of Rs. 15 lakhs. A high school is also being built by this Trust to function from the next academical year.

SHETH SHOORJI VALLABHDASS had established his reputation as a leading businessman in Colour, Chemicals and Kariana in India for more than forty years. In 1937, he turned his attention to shipping. Many adventurous Indians had failed in the line in the face of unhealthy foreign competition. But through a deep study of the problem, great perseverance, insight and tact, Sheth Shoorjibhai made his mark in this field and was at the helm of three prosperous Indian shipping companies, viz., The Malabar Steamship Co., Ltd., The New Dholera Steamships Ltd. and The National Steamship Co., Ltd. He was the first to fly the Indian tricolour National Congress flag over his steamers and was honoured by Dr. Rajendra Prasad, who responded to an invitation four years ago to unfurl the Congress flag over a newly purchased steamer of one of his shipping companies. In 1948, Sheth Shoorji Vallabhdass was selected by the Government of India to join the Indian Shipping Delegation, which visited the United Kingdom to claim India's proper share in the International Shipping Trade.

His large family of three sons and five daughters have had the benefit of the highest education under the guidance of Sheth Shoorjibhai, and his two sons Shri Pratapsinh and Shri Vikramsinh have been associated with him in the management of his shipping and other business activities for some years.

Named after His Highness Sri Krishnarajendra Wadiyar Bahadur IV, GCSI, GBE, of revered memory, the Sri Krishnarajendra Mills, Ltd, has been serving the public for over three decades by manufacturing and supplying to the country special quality yarns, excellent and durable cloth and superfine hosiery. The Mills are situated on the northern outskirts of Mysore City amidst picturesque surroundings.

Side view of the Mills

The Company had to pass through trying and difficult times for over two decades after its birth just after the First Great War in 1920. The Government of Mysore with their usual farsighted policy of encouraging industrial enterprise in the State came to the rescue of the Company at a critical time in 1931 and by assuming managerial responsibility of the Company, placed it on a firm basis.

Canteen

During World War II, the Company recorded rapid progress, shook off the heavy debt burden, built up sizable reserves and established itself on sound financial foundations. State aid became no longer necessary and the management was handed over in 1946 by Government to the shareholders. The paid-up share capital, which had been written down by half in 1926, was restored to its original paid up value of Rs 50 per share in 1948.

Labour welfare has continued to receive the active and sympathetic attention of the management. With the full co-operation of the labour force which is forthcoming in ample measure, it has been possible for the Mills to improve their standard of living and introduce many new welfare measures. In the matter of labour housing, in addition to the 68 original tenements, 176 fresh tenements were added to the modern labour colony during 1944-48. A permanent scheme for the payment of profit bonus linked to the dividend paid to the shareholders was instituted in 1944. In 1949, old rules of periodical gratuities to workers were replaced by a new compulsory scheme of Workmen's Provident Fund.

An up-to-date Canteen, Creche, Free Dispensary, Co-operative Society, Children's Schools, Bhajan Mandir, Social Club and Adult Literacy classes are the chief welfare institutions actively functioning for the good of workers and their dependants.
